GECKO CABANE · KRABI

The Krabi Town food guide

Welcome to Krabi. We are Gecko Cabane, a small French-Thai restaurant on Maharat Road, and this guide gathers the places in town that we like. Use it as a starting list to explore at your own pace.

Krabi Town Walking Street

NIGHT MARKET

The biggest night market in town, busiest at weekends: small southern dishes, grilled river prawns, coconut pancakes, with live music on a stage. To check on the spot: Friday to Sunday, about 5 pm to 10 pm.

Maharat Soi 8, next to the Vogue department store

Maharat Soi 10 night market

STREET FOOD

A calmer evening market with fried or steamed fish and southern dishes at low prices. To check on the spot: hours vary by source, plan on the evening.

Maharat Soi 10, a lane north of the Walking Street

Maharat morning market

MARKET

For a Thai-style breakfast: seafood, ready-cooked southern dishes, rice porridge. The market opens very early and the best stalls sell out before late morning. To check on the spot.

Chao Fah pier restaurants

RESTAURANT

Simple tables by the water, where fish and seafood depend on the daily catch and are often priced by weight. Prices and dishes change every day: to check on the spot.

Riverside, around Chao Fah pier

The Krabi River promenade

ACTIVITY

A riverside walk that is pleasant late in the day, on foot and free of charge. It passes near the large black crab sculpture, opposite the Poo Dam night market.

From Chao Fah Park to Thara Park

Wat Kaew Korawaram

ACTIVITY

The town's main temple, white, known for its naga staircase and its view over the town and the river. Entry is free; dress modestly in a temple.

Krabi Town

Khao Khanab Nam

ACTIVITY

Two twin limestone hills beside the river, with caves to explore. You go by longtail boat from the pier, in 10 to 15 minutes depending on the source. To check on the spot: the fare (200 to 400 baht depending on the source).

On the Krabi River, by longtail boat from Chao Fah pier

Wat Tham Suea (Tiger Cave Temple)

ACTIVITY

A Buddhist temple known for its staircase of more than 1,200 steps up to a summit at about 278 metres, where a large golden Buddha stands. The view covers much of Krabi. Bring water, good shoes and start early, before the heat.

North-north-east of Krabi Town

Songthaew to Ao Nang

TRANSPORT

Songthaews, shared pickup taxis, link Krabi Town to Ao Nang. To check on the spot: the departure point, the hours and the fare, which can change, especially in the evening.

At the corner of Maharat Road and Soi 8, by the 7-Eleven (according to one source)
