Thai-style crab curry

Serves 2

Ingredients

- 1 crab of about 600 g, cleaned and cut into pieces (or 250 g crab meat)
- 1 tablespoon neutral oil
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 1/2 onion, sliced
- 1 tablespoon yellow curry powder
- 1 teaspoon chilli paste in oil (nam prik pao), optional
- 100 ml coconut milk
- 1 tablespoon fish sauce
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 stalk of Chinese celery or 2 spring onions, cut into lengths
- Steamed white rice to serve

Method

1. If the crab is whole, crack the claws with the back of a knife so the sauce gets in.
2. Heat the oil in a wok over medium heat. Cook the garlic and onion without browning them.
3. Add the curry powder (and the nam prik pao) and stir for a few seconds until the aroma is released.

4. Pour in the coconut milk, fish sauce and sugar. Bring to a gentle simmer.
5. Add the crab, coat it in the sauce, cover and cook for 8 to 10 minutes over medium heat (4 to 5 minutes for crab meat).
6. Lower the heat and pour in the eggs in a thin stream, stirring gently: they should set into silky ribbons in the sauce.
7. Add the celery or spring onions, stir for 30 seconds, taste and serve straight away with the rice.

Tips

- Keep the heat at medium: too much heat scorches the curry powder and hardens the eggs.
- Allergens to flag: shellfish, egg, fish (fish sauce).
- Quantities are a starting point to adjust to your taste: taste before serving.
